

Griffin Recovery Enterprises, Inc. offers a comprehensive array of trauma-informed services designed specifically for men. Dan Griffin and his team will create a customized program to support the transformation of your organization's addiction and mental health programs. We specialize in training addiction and mental health professionals, conference plenaries and workshops, and providing webinars for improving services for men. We offer professional development and training seminars to enhance skills in working with men's trauma. We provide retreats and workshops for men to deepen their emotional recovery and enhance their relational competence.

WE OFFER

WORKSHOPS

GRE will provide a one-hour to half-day presentation for your professional community, sponsored by your program.

We will spend a half-day with your staff providing an overview of our philosophy and tools for working with men and/or meet directly with your clients to facilitate a session to delve into their unique experiences as men and ultimately enhance their recovery.

Dan and his team are available to speak on enhancing your existing men's services, the male experience of trauma, and many other topics to fit your program's unique needs.

TRAININGS

Two or three-day comprehensive trainings on the Helping Men Recover curriculum, the first trauma-informed addiction and recovery curriculum written just for men.

Multiple levels of support from: staff in-services to comprehensive program transformation.

Become a trained Helping Men Recover Program Facilitator and enhance your ability to respond effectively to men's behavior to optimize client engagement and program success.

Increased personal awareness regarding professional and personal growth opportunities.

RETREATS

GRE will provide from one to four days of an intensive and challenging experience for your male clients to transform their understanding of what it means to be a man in recovery.

In-depth personal work where the men explore their core ideas of being men while remembering how to play, laugh, and relax.

Strengthen the safety of your client community with greater authenticity and vulnerability for your men as a result of their retreat experience.

ONSITE ASSESSMENT

We will come to your facility for one to three days to meet with various staff, clients, and alumni.

We provide a detailed follow-up report of the strengths and challenges of your program and how we can best work with your team to provide the most effective services for your men.

FOLLOW-UP VISITS

These visits are designed to take your men's services to the highest level. Building on the previous trainings and workshops, our clients have found this to be essential in ensuring an effective implementation process.

These visits help with implementation through: troubleshooting any challenges in delivering the material, reviewing elements of fidelity and the implementation plan set up by the team, and meet with clients (past and current.)
